The Transformation Conversation

Part One

If we were having this conversation one year from now, looking back over those twelve months, what would have had to happen in order for you to feel happy with your progress relative to human error, safety, and human performance within your organization?

Part Two

Relative to your answer(s) to Part One…

What dangers/challenges currently exist that need to be eliminated?

What Opportunities currently exist that need to be captured?

What strengths currently exist that need to be maximized?
